About the Community

Located on U.S. 62, the village has a population of over 1,100 residents with home grown pride and down home values. Small stores to shop and places to eat are plentiful in the community. The Village of Danville is known as "The Gateway to Amish Country". We are the trailhead/terminus for both the Kokosing Gap Trail and the Mohican Valley Trail that extends to the Bridge of Dreams in Brinkhaven. The Mohican Valley Trail runs from Danville to Holmes County, while the Kokosing Gap Trail runs from Danville to Mount Vernon. The area is served by several colleges including Kenyon, Mount Vernon Nazarene, OSU branches, Central Ohio Technical College and the North Central Technical College.

The Board of Education works closely with the community in a spirit of cooperation to create a sense of family within the entire educational arena. It is the board's goal to employ an individual who has a track record of community and someone who has a strong sense of urgency about its continuous improvement plan. They are looking for a leader with vision who can assist and inspire with a continuation of its academic endeavors.

About the District

The faculty, staff, students, and community are devoted to academic excellence and the cultivation of individual strengths and talents in a supportive environment where individual differences and respect for the rights of others guide school and community behavior.

Danville is a very close knit community that values a quality education. The district consists of 110 square miles, located in eastern Knox County as well as in part of Holmes County. Danville is 57 miles northeast of Columbus. Education is recognized as the most valuable resource for building a bridge in helping Danville's 600 students become successful on the college campus and in the world of work. The district works cooperatively with the Knox County Career Center to provide vocational and technical training.
