

OESCA & Zaner-Bloser Present:

The Simple View of Reading and More: Delivering on Ohio's Literacy Promise

Featuring Laura Stewart, Educator & Author

Choose from Two Session Dates:

April 20, 2020: 1:00 - 4:00 p.m. at ESCCO

April 21, 2020: 9:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m. at ESCCO

Overview:

There is no greater mission for educators than ensuring all students are successful, joyful readers. Recently, the science of reading has started getting the attention it richly deserves. States, departments of education and schools across the U.S. are having serious conversations about how to align early reading instruction to the large body of evidence about reading—the most studied aspect of human learning.

Topics Covered:

- Why Evidence Should Guide Instruction
- What Works in Early Reading Instruction
- How to Put It All Together – Instruction Counts!

$70/person

Space is limited

About the Presenter:

Laura Stewart is an educator and organizational leader. She has served as a teacher, administrator, adjunct professor, and director of numerous professional development initiatives around the country. She was the vice president of professional development for the Rowland Reading Foundation and the chief academic officer for professional development at Highlights for Children.

Laura's current role as the national director of The Reading League fits her perfectly, as her passion is empowering educators to positively impact all students and ultimately change the course of literacy achievement in the U.S. She presents nationally and internationally and is a published author of educator training guides and 12 children's books.
